

Part 1: CREATE TABLE

Question 1

Create a table called students with the following columns:

- student_id → integer, primary key
 - full_name → varchar(100), not null
 - email → varchar(100), unique
 - age → integer
 - city → varchar(50)
-

Question 2

Create a table called courses with the following columns:

- course_id → integer, primary key
 - course_name → varchar(100)
 - duration_hours → integer
-

Part 2: INSERT INTO

Question 3

Insert three records into the students table with different values.

Question 4

Insert two records into the courses table.

Part 3: ALTER TABLE

Question 5

Add a new column called phone_number (varchar 15) to the students table.

Question 6

Add a column called status to the students table and set its default value to 'active'.

Part 4: UPDATE

Question 7

Update the city of the student with student_id = 1 to 'Cairo'.

Question 8

Update the status of all students whose age is greater than 25 to 'inactive'.